Thank you for visiting La Esperanza Restaurant. As a value customer and friend of the Family, we would like to tell you a bit more about ourselves, the Cordova Family. We are a family owned and operated establishment, and the name of our restaurant stands for HOPE (Esperanza). Our name is strongly represented by the little house that you see in our menu as well as any other item that contains our name. Why is it representative of the Family? Well At first glance the image was chosen with no particular intention. However, it wasn’t until the restaurant was already open that a strong resemblance was found with that of another house. Below you’ll see our logo; beside it is the very first house own by our family. It was taken in Mexico; it sits abandoned on the side of a small mountain. This is where the brothers and sisters took their first steps, learned, cried and played. More importantly, where our family began to have hope. This is the same hope that continues to push us and which unexpectedly showed itself upon another house. This same house which looked over us for so many years during our beginnings now looks upon us once more, while we take our hope to a higher level. It is this very same house which we will never forget
